Mediation in Contemporary Native American Fiction James Ruppert, 1995 Mediation is the term James Ruppert uses to describe his important new theory of reading Native American fiction Focusing on novels of six major contemporary American writers N Scott Momaday James Welch Leslie Silko Gerald Vizenor D Arcy McNickle and Louise Erdrich Ruppert analyzes the ways in which these writers draw upon their bicultural heritage guiding Native and non Native readers alike to a different and expanded understanding of each other's worlds While Native American writers may criticize white society revealing its past and present injustices their emphasis Ruppert argues is on healing survival and continuance Their fiction aims to produce cross cultural understanding rather than divisiveness To that end they articulate the perspectives and values of competing world views In particular they create characters who manifest what Ruppert calls multiple identities determined by both Native and non Native perceptions of the self These writers use a variety of narrative techniques deriving from different cultural traditions They might incorporate Native oral storytelling techniques adapting them to written form or they might reconstruct Native mythologies investing them with new meaning and relevance by applying them to contemporary situations As novel writers they also include features more characteristic of western European writing such as the omniscient narrator or the detective story plot

Challenging Realities: Magic Realism in Contemporary American Women's Fiction M. Ruth Noriega Sánchez, 2011-11-28 Les arrels del realisme màgic en els escrits de Borges i altres autors d'Amèrica Llatina han estat plenament reconeguts i ben documentades produint una sèrie d'estudis crítics molts dels quals figuren en la bibliografia d'aquest treball Dins d'aquest marc aquest llibre presenta als lectors una varietat d'escriptors de grups ètnics coneguts i menys coneguts i les col·loca en un context literari en el que es tracten tant a nivell individual com a escriptors així com a nivell col·lectiu com a part d'un moviment artístic més ampli Aquest llibre és el resultat del treball realitzat a les universitats de Sheffield i la de València i representa una valuosa investigació i una important contribució als estudis literaris

Frontiers in American Children's Literature Dorothy Clark, Linda Salem, 2016-02-29 Frontiers in American Children's Literature is a groundbreaking work by both established and emerging scholars in the fields of children's literature criticism history and education It offers 18 essays which explore and critically examine the expanding canon of American children's books against the backdrop of a social history comprised of a deep layering of trauma and struggle redefining what equality and freedom mean. The book charts new ground in how children's literature is telling stories of historical trauma: the racial violence of American slavery, the Mexican Repatriation Act and the oppression and violence against African Americans in light of such murders as in the AME Mother Emanuel Church and the shooting of Michael Brown. This new frontier explores how truth telling about racism, oppression and genocide communicates with the young about violence and freedom in literature, transforming harsh truths into a moral vision. Frontiers in American Children's Literature will be an instant classic for fans of children's and adolescent literature, American literature, cultural studies and students of literature in general as well as teachers and prospective teachers. Those interested in art history, graphic novels, picture book art, African American and American Indian literature, the digital humanities and new media will also find this volume compelling. Authors and artists covered in these essays include Laurie Halse Anderson, M. T. Anderson, Paolo Bacigalupi, Louise Erdrich, Eric Gansworth, Edward Gorey, Russell Hoban, Ellen Hopkins, Patricia Polacco, Ann Rinaldi, Peter S. Lynd Ward and Naomi Wolf among others. Essayists examine their subjects' most provocative works on the topics of realistic depictions of slavery, oppression and trauma and the triumph of truth in storytelling over these experiences. From The Astonishing Life of Octavian Nothing to The Birchbark House, from the graphic novel to picture books and the digital humanities in teaching and reading, there is something for everyone in this collection. Contributors include leaders in the fields of literature and education such as the award-winning Katherine Capshaw and Anastasia Ulanowicz. Margaret Noodin, poet and leader in American Indian scholarship and education, leads the essays on American Indian children's literature, while Steven Herb, Director of the Pennsylvania Center for the Book and an affiliate of the Center for the Book in the Library of Congress, offers an insider's view of Caldecott Medal awardee Lynn Ward.

Gerald Vizenor Kimberly M. Blaesus, 1996 Kimberly M. Blaesus begins with an examination of Vizenor's concept of Native American oral culture and his unique incorporation of oral tradition in the written word. She details Vizenor's efforts to produce a form of writing that resists static meaning, involves the writer in the creation of the literary moment and invites political action and explores the place of Vizenor's work within the larger context of contemporary tribal literature, Native American scholarship and critical theory.

Seeking the Self - Encountering the Other Tuomas Huttunen, Janne Korkka, 2020-11-09 Seeking the Self: Encountering the Other offers new insights into diasporic experiences, encounters and representations. This collection of texts examines diaspora narratives and the ways in which different encounters with the other are represented as well as how these encounters might be read and interpreted in ethical terms. The anthology explores questions of ethics in narratives of displacement or belonging, nationalist narratives of exclusion and borderline narratives constructed on the foundation provided by encounters with the cultural, sexual, gendered and ethnic other. The contributors aim to explore questions of responsibility and ethics in the study of diaspora, migration and alterity from a wide range of perspectives Following a Levinasian one if the other is always ultimately transcendental and ungraspable through language we are required to consider ethics every time we write read or interpret an encounter with the other Leslie Marmon Silko's Ceremony Allan Chavkin,2002 Along with Louise Erdrich's Love Medicine Leslie Marmon Silko's Ceremony is one of the two most widely taught and studied Native American literature texts In Ceremony Silko recounts a young man's search for consolation in his tribe's history and traditions and his resulting voyage of self discovery and discovery of the world This casebook includes a variety of theoretical approaches and provides readers with crucial information especially on Native American beliefs that will enhance their understanding and appreciation of this contemporary classic This collection also includes two interviews with Leslie Marmon Silko in which she explains the importance of oral tradition and storytelling along with the autobiographical basis of the novel Native American Literature in Tribal Context Margaret Ann Noori,2001 Other Words Jace Weaver,2001 Elo a Cherokee word is usually translated by anthropologists as religion but it also simultaneously encompasses history culture knowledge law and land In this provocative work Jace Weaver interlaces these seemingly disparate meanings to form a coherent approach to Native American Studies In nineteen interrelated chapters Weaver presents a range of experiences shared by native peoples in the Americas from the distant past to the uncertain future He examines Indian creative output from oral tradition to the postmodern wordplay of Gerald Vizenor and brings to light previously overlooked texts Weaver also tackles up to the minute issues including environmental crises Native American spirituality repatriation of Indian remains and cultural artifacts and international human rights
