Mining In Africa Regulation And Development:

Mining in Africa Bonnie Campbell, 2009-06-15 The continent of Africa is rich in minerals needed by Western economies but rather than forming the basis for economic growth the mining industry contributes very little to African development Investigating the impact of the 2003 Extractive Industries Review on a number of African countries the contributors find the root of the problem in the controls imposed on the African countries by the IMF and World Bank They aim to convince academics governments and industry that regulation needs to be reformed to create a mining industry favourable towards social economic and environmental development The book takes a multidisciplinary approach and provides a historical perspective of each country making it ideal for students of development studies and development organizations Mining in Africa Bonnie Campbell, 2009-05-20 The continent of Africa is rich in minerals needed by Western economies but rather than forming the basis for economic growth the mining industry contributes very little to African development Investigating the impact of the 2003 Extractive Industries Review on a number of African countries the contributors find that a key dimension of the problem lies in the regulatory frameworks imposed on the African countries by the IMF and World Bank They aim to convince academics governments and industry that regulation needs to be reformed to create a mining industry favourable to social and economic development and environmental protection Modes of Governance and Revenue Flows in African Mining B. Campbell, 2013-11-21 Academics policy makers and practitioners from Africa and beyond document new ways of thinking about issues concerning governance and revenue flows in mining activities in Ghana Mali and the Democratic Republic of the Congo African Countries Mining Industry Development Handbook Volume 3 Southern Africa - Strategic Information and Opportunities IBP, Inc., 2017-03-10 2011 Updated Reprint Updated Annually Capital for African Countries Handbook Mining Africa Warikandwa, Tapiwa V., 2017-05-01 This book is a pacesetter in matters of mining and the environment in Africa from multidisciplinary and spatio temporal perspectives The book approaches mining from the perspectives of law politics archaeology anthropology African studies geography human ecology sociology history economics and development It interrogates mining and environment from the perspectives of customary law as well as from the perspectives of Euro modern laws In this sense the book straddles precolonial colonial and postcolonial mining and environmental perspectives In all this it maintains a Pan Africanist perspective that also speaks to contemporary debates on African Renaissance and to the unity of Africa From scrutinising the lived realities of African miners who are often insensitively and unjustly addressed as illegal miners the book also interrogates transnational mining corporations matters of corporate social responsibility as well as matters of tax evasions by transnational corporations whose commitment to accountability to African governments is questioned With both theoretical chapters and chapter based on empirical studies on mining and the environment across the African continent the book provides a much needed holistic one stop shop for scholars activists researchers and policy makers who need a comprehensive treatise on African mining and the environment

The book comes at the right time when matters of African mining and environment are increasingly coming to the fore in the light of discourses about the new 21st century scramble for African resources in which big transnational corporations and nations are jostling to suck Africa dry in their race to control planetary resources. It is a book that speaks to contemporary broader issues of de coloniality and transformation of African minds and African environmental resources. Mining and Social Transformation in Africa Deborah Fahy Bryceson, Eleanor Fisher, Jesper Bosse Jønsson, Rosemarie Mwaipopo, 2013-10-15. After more than three decades of economic malaise many African countries are experiencing an upsurge in their economic fortunes linked to the booming international market for minerals. Spurred by the shrinking viability of peasant agriculture rural dwellers have been engaged in a massive search for alternative livelihoods one of the most lucrative being artisanal mining. While an expanding literature has documented the economic expansion of artisanal mining this book is the first to probe its societal impact demonstrating that artisanal mining has the potential to be far more democratic and emancipating than preceding modes. Delineating the paradoxes of artisanal miners working alongside the expansion of large scale mining investment in Africa Mining and Social Transformation in Africa concentrates on the Tanzanian experience. Written by authors with fresh research insights focus is placed on how artisanal mining is configured in relation to local regional and national mining investments and social class differentiation. The work lives and associated lifestyles of miners and residents of mining settlements are brought to the fore asking where this historical interlude is taking them and their communities in the future. The question of value transfers out of the artisanal mining sector value capture by elites and changing configurations of gender age and class differentiation all arise. Regulating Mining in Africa Bonnie K. Campbell, 2004. Liberalisation of the mining sector in Africa in the 1980s a developmental perspective II.

Routledge Handbook of Natural Resource Governance in Africa Hany Besada, Cristina D'Alessandro, Tefsi Golla, 2024-03-13. The Routledge Handbook of Natural Resource Governance in Africa provides a comprehensive analysis of African natural resource governance stretching across the continent and encompassing water land extractive resources and mining. Africa's natural resources are not only crucial for the continent from an economic environmental and political perspective but they are also of significant geopolitical importance with direct implication for meeting the global challenges outlined in the Sustainable Development Goals. Whether an abundance of natural resources proves to be a curse or a blessing depends on the nature extent and outcome of the effort and experience of an individual country in governing and managing such assets. It is with this in mind that this ground breaking handbook brings together experts from across the field of natural resource development to reflect on the varied regime types and paradigms within the continent's natural resource sectors the specific challenges they face and their role within global value chains. The book first considers governance for sustainable development and discourses of land and development financing before going on to investigate the regulatory and policy impacts and socioeconomic implications of natural resource management. Finally the Handbook situates the African continent within the emerging global energy transition examining trends in South South cooperation and new frontiers for the harnessing of critical tools in a sustainable future for natural resource governance and management Overall the Handbook s in depth analysis provides a unique blend of realism and optimism highlighting the importance of building a new sustainable African resource narrative for shared prosperity The handbook will be an essential read for researchers and policy makers with an interest in sustainable development and natural resource governance in Africa

Young Entrepreneurs in Sub-Saharan Africa Katherine V. Gough, Thilde Langevang, 2016-03-02 Young people in sub Saharan Africa are growing up in rapidly changing social and economic environments which produce high levels of un and underemployment Job creation through entrepreneurship is currently being promoted by international organizations governments and NGOs as a key solution despite there being a dearth of knowledge about youth entrepreneurship in an African context This book makes an important contribution by exploring the nature of youth entrepreneurship in Ghana Uganda and Zambia It provides new insights into conceptual and methodological discussions of youth entrepreneurship as well as presenting original empirical data Drawing on quantitative and qualitative research conducted under the auspices of a collaborative interdisciplinary and comparative research project it highlights the opportunities and challenges young people face in setting up and running businesses Divided into a number of clear sections each with its own introduction and conclusion the book considers the nature of youth entrepreneurship at the national level in both urban and rural areas in specific sectors including mobile telephony mining handicrafts and tourism and analyses how key factors such as microfinance social capital and entrepreneurship education affect youth entrepreneurship New light is shed on the multi faceted nature of youth entrepreneurship and a convincing case is presented for a more nuanced understanding of the term entrepreneurship and the situation faced by many African youth today This book will be of interest to a wide range of scholars interested in youth entrepreneurship including in development studies business studies youth studies and geography as well as to development practitioners and policy makers The Open Access title has now been added to the Open Access page <http://www.tandfebooks.com/page/openaccess>

Canada-Africa Relations Yiagadeesen Samy, Rohinton P. Medhora, 2016-10-17 A wave of optimism has swept the African continent in the past decade The pace and extent of social change in recent years when measured in life expectancy child and infant mortality rates literacy numeracy and the completion of higher education is quite remarkable The urban middle class is emerging and expanding in many African countries while political democracy is developing and strengthening These positive changes are generating economic growth and attracting foreign investment across the continent especially in the resource sector But Africa is still viewed by many as the dark continent dealing with serious problems civil wars ethnic division corruption HIV AIDS poverty food security and the disastrous effects of climate change and these issues may well impede the upward trajectory of Africa

Canada Africa Relations Looking Back Looking Ahead the 27th volume of the influential Canada Among Nations series analyzes the ebb and flow of Canada s engagement with Sub

Saharan Africa through different lenses over the past few decades and also looks to the future highlighting the opportunities and the difficulties that exist for Canada and Sub Saharan Africa It is clear that a new Africa is emerging and Canada must be prepared to change the nature of its relationship with the continent

The Political Economy of Southeast Asia Toby Carroll, Shahar Hameiri, Lee Jones, 2020-03-03 This is not only the best collection of essays on the political economy of Southeast Asia but also as a singular achievement of the Murdoch School one of the rarest of books that demonstrates how knowledge production travels across generations institutions and time periods thereby continually enriching itself No course on Southeast Asia can afford to miss it as its core text Professor Amitav Acharya American University USA This book the fourth in a path breaking series demonstrates why a critical political economy approach is more crucial than ever for understanding Southeast Asia's transformation Across a wide range of topics the book explains how capitalist development and globalisation are reshaping the societies economies and politics of a diverse group of countries casting light on the deep sources of economic and social power in the region This is a book that every student of Southeast Asia needs to read Professor Edward Aspinall Australian National University Australia This book does what a work on political economy should do challenge existing paradigms in order to gain a deeper understanding of the processes of social transformation This volume is distinctive in three ways First it eschews methodological nationalism and focuses on how the interaction of national regional and global forces are shaping and reshaping systems of governance mass politics economies labor capital relations migration and gender relations across the region Second it is a bold effort to show how the Murdoch School which focuses on the dynamic synergy of internal class relations and global capitalism provides a better explanatory framework for understanding social change in Southeast Asia than the rival developmental state and historical institutionalist approaches Third alongside established luminaries in the field it showcases the younger generation of political economists doing pathbreaking work on different dimensions of the political economy of the region Walden Bello State University of New York at Binghamton USA and Former Member of the Philippines House of Representatives This very timely fourth edition explores Southeast Asia's political economy within the context of hyperglobalisation and China's pronounced social structural impacts on international politics finance and economics over the past decade and a half The volume successfully adopts a cross cutting thematic approach while also conveying the diversity and divergences among the Southeast Asian states and economies This will be an important resource for scholars of International Relations and Comparative Politics who need to take an interest in a dynamic and increasingly significant part of Asia Professor Evelyn Goh Australian National University Australia This ambitious collection takes a consistent theoretical approach and applies it to a thematic comparative analysis across Southeast Asia The yield is impressive the social political and economic forces constituting the current conjuncture are not simply invoked they are thoroughly identified and explained By posing the deceptively simple questions of what is happening and why the authors demonstrate the reciprocal relation between theory building and empirical inquiry providing a model of engaged scholarship with global resonance Bravo Professor Tania Li University of Toronto Canada Counteracting the spaceless and flattened geography of much literature on uneven development this book delivers a forensic examination of the unevenness of geographical development in Southeast Asia and the relations of force shaping capital state nature and civil society This is the most compelling theoretical and empirical political economy book available on Southeast Asia Professor Adam David Morton University of Sydney Australia A vital book for all scholars students and practitioners concerned with political economy and development this volume combines cutting edge theory with rich and wide ranging empirical analysis It is terrific to see the continued success of this book with this fully revised fourth edition Professor Nicola Philips Kings College London UK The Political Economy of Southeast Asia has become a leading reference for students of the region With its breadth of geographic scope timely themes clarity of prose and rigour of analysis Carroll Hameiri and Jones have ensured that with this fourth edition the volume will continue its landmark status The book which brings together prominent experts in the field will not only be of immense interest to scholars studying Southeast Asia but also those seeking to understand the multifaceted nature of the political economy of uneven development in contemporary capitalism Professor Susanne Soederberg Queen s University Canada The Asia Research Centre at Murdoch University has long produced leading analyses of the social economic and political developments in Southeast Asia This volume carries on that wonderful tradition It brings together top class scholars to challenge our assumptions about one of the most dynamic parts of the world This collection is a crucial read for anyone interested in understanding trends in Southeast Asia s development today and into the future Professor Richard Stubbs McMaster University Canada This fourth volume in a distinguished series provides a welcome and timely update of the Murdoch School s distinctive approach to understanding the evolving political economy of Southeast Asia Its theoretical depth and wide empirical scope will be of great value to scholars students and practitioners seeking a systematic understanding of the political economy dynamics in the Asian region and more broadly of states and regions embedded in a complex unstable global political economy Professor Andrew Walter University of Melbourne This all new fourth edition of The Political Economy of Southeast Asia constitutes a state of the art comprehensive analysis of the political economic social and ecological development of one of the world s most dynamic regions With contributions from world leading experts the volume is unified by a single theoretical approach the Murdoch School of political economy which foregrounds struggles over power and resources and the evolving global context of hyperglobalisation Themes considered include gender populism the transformation of the state regional governance aid and the environment The volume will be of interest to scholars and students across multiple disciplines including political economy development studies international relations and area studies The findings of contributors will also be of value to civil society policymakers and anyone interested in Southeast Asia and its development
