Perceptions Of Cuba Canadian And American Policies In Comparative Perspective:

Perceptions of Cuba Lana Wylie, 2010-01-01 In 1976 with the US trade embargo against Cuba underway Canada's Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau visited the island nation befriended his counterpart and exclaimed publicly Long live Prime Minister Fidel Castro During the past half century of communist rule in Cuba Canada's policy of engagement with the country has contrasted sharply with the United States policy of isolation Based on a series of interviews conducted in Havana Washington and Ottawa Perceptions of Cuba moves beyond traditional economic and political analyses to show that national identities distinct to each country contributed to the formation of their dissimilar foreign policies Lana Wylie argues that Canadians and Americans perceive Cuba through different lenses rooted in their respective identities American exceptionalism made Cuba the polar opposite of the United States while Canada's self image as a good international citizen and as not American has allowed the country to engage with the Cuban government By acknowledging that competing national identities perceptions and ideas play a major role in foreign policies Perceptions of Cuba makes a significant contribution to our understanding of international relations Subalternity vs. Hegemony, Cuba's Outstanding

Achievements in Science and Biotechnology, 1959-2014 Angelo Baracca, Rosella Franconi, 2016-07-12 The present book introduces an original new perspective on Cuba This book revisits Cuba's choice after the 1959 revolution to develop an advanced healthcare and scientific system It also introduces new aspects of the problem development underdevelopment From the start every effort of the Cuban leadership and scientific community was driven by the primary purpose of meeting the country's basic economic and social needs Immediate key measures taken after the revolution included free education up to higher levels and free health services In only a couple of decades Third World diseases were defeated and a First World health profile was achieved In the sciences support and collaboration was sought and welcomed from both Soviet and western countries Moreover due to the backward position of the Soviet Union in genetics and molecular biology in the early 1970s Cuban scientists were trained in these fields mainly by Italian biologists In the following decade initially relying on contacts with American and Finnish specialists Cuban biologists and physicians built a large industrial biotechnology complex to produce and commercialize Cuban made and often invented medicines and vaccines In the early 1990s the sudden collapse of the Soviet Union and the socialist market created an unprecedented challenge Yet Cuba's scientific system substantially resiled despite unavoidable setbacks This crisis was faced by confirming and reinforcing government support for biotechnology with the result that today Cuba excels at a global level in the typical capital intensive field of biotechnology While this book is especially devoted to historians of science and technology and to biotechnologists it is of interest to the general public Portraying the Other in International Relations Sybille Reinke de Buitrago, 2012-04-25 Portraying the other in international relations significantly shapes interaction among actors in the international field consequently colouring views of the other and legitimating behaviour toward the other This edited volume presents current analyses by international scholars on othering processes and self other constructions within international relations attempting to fill a gap in the debate on this fascinating topic and its socio political implications Othering is illustrated in three thematic sections I Othering in interstate and interregional relations II Othering in the policy field of terrorism and counterterrorism and III Possible transformations of othering Contributions discuss othering from diverse angles and with different conceptual approaches illustrating the multiple forms othering can take They show how othering can be studied and its dynamics and consequences critically analysed and more comprehensively understood but also the limits to these attempts Various motivations for engaging in othering are elaborated The images ways of representations and stylistic means that are applied are exposed and their internal logic as well as effects on thinking and behaviour in the international arena examined Furthermore possibilities for modifying othering processes that is how negative self other constructions may be transformed with the goal of enabling the peaceful existence of different groups are presented

The Fence and the Bridge Heather N. Nicol, 2015-10-19 The Fence and the Bridge is about the development of the Canada US border security relationship as an outgrowth of the much lengthier Canada US relationship It suggests that this relationship has been both highly reflexive and hegemonic over time and that such realities are embodied in the metaphorical images and texts that describe the Canada US border over its history Nicol argues that prominent security motifs such as themes of free trade illegal immigration cross border crime terrorism and territorial sovereignty are not new nor are they limited to the post 9 11 era They have developed and evolved at different times and become part of a larger quilt whose patches are stitched together to create a new fabric and design Each of the security motifs that now characterize Canada US border perceptions and relations has a precedent in border management strategies and border relations in earlier periods In some cases these have deep historical roots that date back not just years or decades but centuries They are part of an evolving North American geopolitical logic that inscribes how borders are perceived how
