Personal Construct Psychotherapy Advances In Theory Practice And Research:

Personal Construct Psychotherapy David A. Winter, Linda Viney, 2008-09-15 In the half century that has passed since George Kelly put forward his psychology of personal constructs there have been major advances in the form of psychotherapy derived from his theory This book presents developments in the personal construct theory perspective on psychological disorders and their treatment in the context of contemporary issues in psychotherapy illustrates the diverse range of personal construct psychotherapy approaches that have been devised for a wide range of clinical problems and indicates the growing evidence base for these approaches It contains contributions from most of the leading international practitioners in the field It will not only be of interest to psychotherapists other clinicians academics and students who are already familiar with personal construct theory or constructivism but also to those who are seeking a therapeutic approach which is integrative but has a clear theoretical rationale and which is able to combine humanism with rigour Personal and

Relational Construct Psychotherapy Harry Procter, David A. Winter, 2020-09-17 This book introduces Personal and Relational Construct Psychotherapy a development by the authors of an approach to psychotherapy originated in the 1950 s by George A Kelly Drawing on a lifetime of experience in working with people in mental health settings Procter and Winter focus on the crucial relationships that form the context of human struggles and how these can be a fertile resource in problem resolution The book provides step by step descriptions of assessment and therapeutic methods for working with individuals families and groups as well as exploring the philosophical background of the approach its application to formulation supervision and reflective practice its relationships to other models of psychotherapy and its evidence base The book will be invaluable for psychotherapists counsellors and psychologists of all levels and traditions and useful for students and trainees in health education social work and any field involving helping people with the difficulties of everyday life Personal Construct
