Algorithmic Reason Claudia Aradau, Tobias Blanke, 2022-04-25 This is an open access title available under the terms of a CC BY NC ND 4.0 International licence. It is free to read at Oxford Scholarship Online and offered as a free PDF download from OUP and selected open access locations. Are algorithms ruling the world today? Is artificial intelligence making life and death decisions? Are social media companies able to manipulate elections? As we are confronted with public and academic anxieties about unprecedented changes, this book offers a different analytical prism through which these transformations can be explored. Claudia Aradau and Tobias Blanke develop conceptual and methodological tools to understand how algorithmic operations shape the government of self and other. They explore the emergence of algorithmic reason through rationalities, materializations, and interventions, and trace how algorithmic rationalities of decomposition, recombination, and partitioning are materialized in the construction of dangerous others, the power of platforms, and the production of economic value. The book provides a global transdisciplinary perspective on algorithmic operations, drawing on qualitative and digital methods to investigate controversies ranging from mass surveillance and the Cambridge Analytica scandal in the UK to predictive policing in the US and from the use of facial recognition in China and drone targeting in Pakistan to the regulation of hate speech in Germany.

Sustainable Materials and Technologies in VLSI and Information Processing Shashi Kant

Dargar, Shilpi Birla, Abha Dargar, Avtar Singh, D. Ganeshaperumal, 2025-05-23 The International Conference on Sustainable Materials and Technologies in VLSI and Information Processing aimed to converge advancements in semiconductor technology with sustainable practices, addressing the critical need for eco-consciousness in the field of Very Large Scale Integration (VLSI) and Information Processing. The primary purpose of the conference was to explore innovative materials, manufacturing processes, and design methodologies that minimize environmental impact while optimizing performance and functionality in electronic devices. Key features of the conference included interdisciplinary discussions on sustainable materials such as biodegradable polymers, low-power semiconductor materials, and recyclable electronic components. Additionally, it focused on emerging technologies like quantum computing, neuromorphic computing, and photonic integrated circuits, exploring their potential contributions to sustainability in VLSI and information processing. The intended audience comprised researchers, scientists, engineers, and industry professionals from academia, government, and private sectors involved in semiconductor technology, materials science, environmental sustainability, and information processing. What set this conference apart was its unique emphasis on sustainability within the realm of VLSI and information processing. While there are conferences focusing on either semiconductor technology or sustainability separately, this conference bridged the gap between the two, fostering discussions and collaborations that pave the way for greener and more efficient electronic devices and systems.
