Good Meal Prep Ideas For Beginners and Dummies Barbara Dawson,2020-08-18 Meal prepping is making a meal or recipe then portioning it out to grab and go meals for later If you've ever kept your leftovers from dinner to take with you for lunch then next time you've made mini meal prepped. Generally though meal prepping refers to making 3-7 days worth of food at a time Think of it like making your lunches for the week all at once instead of making lunch every day You can use this same technique for breakfast lunch dinner and snacks Meal prepping involves no waste and results in time to do other things whether that's planning a diet or a budget When making your daily food plan the question is how many meals you can eat without having to cook each day or to eat Meal prepping is not for everyone It is good for people who value convenience and for more than one person With meal prepping you generally eat the same thing for a few days in a row so if you don't like leftovers or get bored with food meal prepping isn't for you If having nutritious food while maximizing your time and budget is important to you then trying something different every day meal prepping is not for you I've generally not seen meal prepping for one person or maybe one other person do a whole meal Meal prepping for a whole family would be quite difficult but it's not impossible and would require a meal plan and a lot of food is stored in the refrigerator to keep it from going bad In addition to the way food is packed the individual nuances of your refrigerator can impact the quality of your refrigerated meals So the level of acceptability for the texture and flavor will be subjective to the eater Always begin with the refrigerator guidelines but the FDA and then consult them against your own preferences In general I don't think it's more than a few days worth of food you'll be able to find that's that's the food you'll be able to find to enjoy
