Quality Assurance and University Rankings in the Asia Pacific: Country and Institutional Contexts (Penerbit USM) Koo Yew Lie, Sarjit Kaur, Morshidi Sirat, 2011

University league tables at national regional international levels are increasingly complex influential and controversial In spite of criticisms on robustness of methodology and bias of indicators higher education institutions continue to have an appetite for them and use or misuse them in their planning policymaking and promotion activities This publication will contribute to the much needed analysis of the implications benefits and unintended consequences related to rankings and the broader issues of quality assurance in the Asia Pacific region

Asian Scientists on the Move Anju Mary Paul, 2021-12-09 The growing scientific research output from Asia has been making headlines since the start of the twenty first century But behind this science story there is a migration story The elite scientists who are pursuing cutting edge research in Asia are rarely homegrown talent but were typically born in Asia trained in the West and then returned to work in Asia Asian Scientists on the Move explores why more and more Asian scientists are choosing to return to Asia and what happens after their return when these scientists set up labs in Asia and start training the next generation of Asian scientists Drawing on evocative firsthand accounts from 119 Western trained Asian scientists about their migration decisions and experiences and in depth analysis of the scientific field in four country case studies China India Singapore and Taiwan the book reveals the growing complexity of the Asian scientist migration system

Global University Rankings T. Erkkilä, 2013-09-26 Global University Rankings explores the novel topic of global university rankings and their effects on higher education in Europe The contributions in this volume outline different discourses on global university rankings and explore the related changes concerning European higher education policies disciplinary traditions and higher education institutions The first global university rankings were published less than a decade ago but these policy instruments have become highly influential in shaping the approaches and institutional realities of higher education The rankings have portrayed European academic institutions in a varying light There is intense reflexivity over the figures leading to ideational changes and institutional adaptation that take surprisingly similar forms in different European countries The contributions in this book critically assess global university rankings as a policy discourse that would seem to be instrumental to higher education reform throughout Europe

The University under Pressure Elizabeth Popp Berman, Catherine Paradeise, 2016-02-26 Universities are under pressure Their resource environment is evolving demands for accountability have increased and demographic shifts are changing higher educational needs This volume provides a cross national picture of how the university as an organization is reacting to adapting to and threatened by a period of intense pressure American Universities in a Global Market

Charles T. Clotfelter, 2010-04-28 In higher education the United States is the preeminent global leader dominating the list of the world's top research universities But there are signs that America's position of global leadership will face challenges in the future as it has in other realms of international competition American Universities in a Global Market addresses the variety of issues crucial to understanding this preeminence and this challenge The book examines the various factors that contributed to America's success in higher education including openness to people and ideas generous governmental support and a tradition of decentralized friendly competition It also explores the advantages of holding a dominant position in this marketplace and examines the current state of American higher education in a comparative context placing particular emphasis on how market forces affect universities By discussing the differences in quality among students and institutions around the world this volume sheds light on the singular aspects of American higher education World University

Rankings and the Future of Higher Education Downing, Kevin, Ganotice, Jr., Fraide A., 2016-10-06 Delivering quality education to students while remaining competitive at an international level is only one of the many challenges universities face today To attain their goals universities must adopt new strategies to achieve academic excellence World University Rankings and the Future of Higher Education is a pivotal reference source for the latest scholarly research on the implementation of a ranking system for higher education institutions providing a thorough overview of the impacts of these rankings on educational quality Exploring the benefits and challenges of this system in a global context this book is ideally designed for academicians researchers students administrators and policy makers interested in the effects of university rankings in the education sector and beyond How to Keep a Competitive Edge in the Talent Game Christal

Morehouse, Matthias Busse, 2014-10-30 BY 2020 the global map of higher education will be completely redrawn and by 2030 China is expected to emerge as the world's largest source of brainpower The European Union should not necessarily view this development as a threat but rather it can be seen as an opportunity for the EU to become more competitive in attracting foreign human capital The quality of human capital in the form of university graduates is well developed in the EU although there remain stark differences between the member states EU universities have not managed to penetrate the premium university rankings with the exception of those in the UK but their overall performance is comparatively high This book compares tertiary education in the European Union the United States and China with the aim of evaluating how the EU as a region fares with respect to the US and China how to improve higher education in the EU and how to secure its stock of human capital In the process we identify a number of game changing factors that affect higher education These notably include how digital technology is integrated into education how education relates to employment and how university institutions are governed Viewed intra regionally Europe is making progress in developing its talent pipeline But if we take a step back and compare the performance of higher education in the EU with that of the US and China and how it is likely to perform in the future there are important lessons to be learned that will allow Europe to sustain prosperity and growth and secure its long term well being and quality of life In Pursuit of World-Class Universities Marcelo Rabossi, K.M. Joshi, Saeed Paivandi, 2018-03-10 The pursuit to construct world class universities is an ongoing global obsession across the world which lays emphasis on the development of competitive higher education and research systems as core national economic approach The portrayal world class is more contextual rather than absolute the expression world class university has an irrefutable cachet There is no solo clear cut definition of what organises a world class university WCU but there are few common attributes that majority of the experts point towards The three attributes stated by Philip Altbach and Jamil Salmi that focus on a high concentration of talent abundant resources and favourable governance have been widely discussed in writings and practice Both in developing and developed countries policymakers and higher education leaders are attempting to identify and outline their desires and plans aimed at achieving global ranking for their university universities Despite condemnation of the methodology the choice of indicators and weightings and the reliability and quality of data used for comparing performance the obsession for constructing world class universities has increased over the period of time But how much do we really discern or comprehend regarding the ranking systems What do the rankings really measure Do rankings measure the quality and help in attaining the broad assignment of higher education Does the competition as outcome of ranking raise standards Is the ranking system an apposite instrument to frame higher education policies This edited volume tries to look at the concept of world class universities in milieu of different countries of the world and explore their experiences either in existing WCUs or constructing WCU or attempting to create WCU The country based chapters show differentiated paths of achievements and their approach towards the concept of WCU Economics: Concepts, Methodologies, Tools, and Applications Management Association, Information Resources, 2015-06-30 Organizations governments and corporations are all concerned with distributing their goods and services to those who need them most consequently benefiting in the process Only by carefully considering the interrelated nature of social systems can organizations achieve the success they strive for Economics Concepts Methodologies Tools and Applications explores the interactions between market agents and their impact on global prosperity Incorporating both theoretical background and advanced concepts in the discipline this multi volume reference is intended for policymakers economists business leaders governmental and non governmental organizations and students of economic theory Academic Entrepreneurship and Technological Innovation: A Business Management Perspective Szopa, Anna, Karwowski, Waldemar, Ordóñez de Pablos, Patricia, 2012-09-30 In the ever changing scientific word Academic entrepreneurship has emerged as a new and growing field Referring to the creation and management of an environment for active support of knowledge exploitation and transfer Academic entrepreneurship aims to encourage entrepreneurial behavior in the academic community Academic Entrepreneurship and Technological Innovation A Business Management Perspective provides a wide ranging overview of the relationship between universities and organizations
