antidote to the secular dogmatism that increasingly infects political discourse John Sexton argues that over six decades a secular dogmatism impenetrable by dialogue or reason has come to dominate political discourse in America Political positions elevated to the status of doctrinal truths now simply are revealed Our leaders and our citizens suffer from an allergy to nuance and complexity and the enterprise of thought is in danger Sexton sees our universities the engines of knowledge and stewards of thought as the antidote and he describes the policies university leaders must embrace if their institutions are to serve this role Acknowledging the reality of our increasingly interconnected world and drawing on his experience as president of New York University when it opened campuses in Abu Dhabi and Shanghai Sexton advocates for global network universities as a core aspect of a new educational landscape and as the crucial foundation blocks of an interlocking world characterized by secular ecumenism Size and Growth of Japanese Plants in the United States

Bruce A. Blonigen,KaSaundra Tomlin,1999 Using a unique database on all Japanese manufacturing plants in the United States we examine the relationship between plant size and growth for these foreign owned plants These plants average sizes are three times larger than comparable U S plants and experienced 30 percent growth from 1987 through 1990 while U S average plant sizes declined over the same period Our estimates strongly reject Gibrat s Law for these plants and suggest that smaller plants grow faster We also find learning affects plant level growth Newer plants grow quicker and previous investments by the parent firm mean slower growth particularly for automobile related plants Both are consistent with inexperienced firms growing faster as they learn American Journal of Respiratory and Critical Care Medicine ,2009
