RNZAF Geoffrey Bentley, 1969 This is the story informally told of the RNZAF and of the men and women all ranks who made the service what it is today It begins in the bamboo and piano wire era before World War I and continues on through 1914 1918 when the flying schools at Kohimarama and Sockburn were training men who included the leaders of the service in a later generation and into the Years of Indifference when a tiny handful of New Zealanders flew ex RAF Avro 504Ks Bristol Fighters and DH9s for minutes rather than hours a month Then the tempo accelerated A modest expansion programme came with newer aircraft until World War II saw the emergence of operational and transport squadrons that earned the proudest reputation on active service with their British and American counterparts To say nothing of a massive and efficient flying training organisation at home The post war years are dealt with in equal detail the operations in overseas theatres the work of transportation squadrons and the consolidation of the reputation and tradition forced in the heat and hurry of war This story like the service itself is founded on people and the author's thumbnail sketches of memorable service types will be welcomed by all who knew these men Appendices covering aircraft flown by the RNZAF and squadron records make the book invaluable for accurate reference Inside front cover Subject Guide to Books in Print ,2001 The Oxford
