The Englishwoman's Review which published from 1866 to 1910 participated in and recorded a great change in the range of possibilities open to women. The ideal of the magazine was the idea of the emerging emancipated middle class woman: economic independence from men, choice of occupation, participation in the male enterprises of commerce and government, access to higher education, admittance to the male professions, particularly medicine, and of course the power of suffrage equal to that of men. First published in 1979, this twenty-first volume contains issues from 1888. With an informative introduction by Janet Horowitz Murray and Myra Stark and an index compiled by Anna Clark, this set is an invaluable resource to those studying nineteenth and early twentieth century feminism and the women's movement in Britain.
