

International Relations Theory and Regional Transformation

International Relations Theory and Regional Transformation T. V. Paul, 2012 A comprehensive treatment of regional transformation offering insights from different theoretical perspectives and generating a range of policy relevant ideas International Relations Theory and Regional Transformation T. V. Paul, 2012-02-23 Regional transformation has emerged as a major topic of research during the past few decades much of it seeking to understand how a region changes into a zone of conflict or cooperation and how and why some regions remain in perpetual conflict Although the leading theoretical paradigms of international relations have something to say about regional order a comprehensive treatment of this subject is missing from the literature This book suggests that cross paradigmatic engagement on regional orders can be valuable if it can generate theoretically innovative testable propositions and policy relevant ideas The book brings together scholars from the dominant IR perspectives aiming to explain the regional order issue through multidimensional and multi causal pathways and seeking meeting points between them Using insights from IR theory the contributors offer policy relevant ideas which may benefit conflict ridden regions of the world The Geopsychology

Theory of International Relations in the 21st Century B. M. Jain, 2021-02-15 This book introduces an innovative theoretical construct of geopsychology to navigate the complex dynamics of international politics in the 21st century It explains how geopsychology is different from mainstream international relations theories in terms of primary actors human behavior spatial application instruments and key issues It argues that peace and stability in the troubled parts of the world warrants an imperative need for understanding psychological dispositions of non state actors and authoritarian regimes In The Geopsychology Theory of International Relations in the 21st Century Escaping the Ignorance Trap B M Jain unfolds that neither a global hegemon nor a cohort of powers could weaken their resolve and break their morale as proven in the cases of Iraq Afghanistan and North Korea Importantly the regional case studies India and Pakistan in South Asia North Korea and China in Northeast Asia and the U S involvement in the Middle East reveal how the psyche and thought processes of national and regional actors have been the driving force in triggering interstate conflicts and civil wars The book brilliantly illuminates how America became a conscious victim of the ignorance trap in Asia's volatile regions This must book offers easy solutions to complex conflicts to induce a peaceful change in world politics International Relations Theory Oliver Daddow, 2017-03-27 With chapters on all the major theories of international relations accompanied by contemporary examples from popular culture film and literature this Third Edition is the ideal introduction to the key perspectives in the field Key features 30% new content with all chapters revised and updated Useful learning features including further reading questions to ponder common pitfalls and taking it further boxes to help you extend your thinking beyond the classroom Invaluable chapters on getting the best out of your knowledge of International Relations Theory in essays and exams including real life examples of best practice WMD Arms Control in the Middle East Harald Müller, 2016-02-17 The Middle East is a hot spot of proliferation. It contains one state assumed to possess nuclear weapons, several states that tried and failed to develop a military nuclear capability, one state under suspicion of trying to do so, and it is the world region that witnessed the most frequent and severe employment of chemical weapons since the end of World War I. Notwithstanding not a single arms control regime concerning weapons of mass destruction (WMD) covers the region as a whole. Instead, we have seen several proliferation-related military operations which have rather contributed to destabilization than served non-proliferation. This volume, written under the auspices of the EU Consortium for Non Proliferation and Disarmament, determines the current state of diplomatic efforts to establish a WMD-free zone in the Middle East. In doing so, it provides insights into central actors' conflicting political positions, thereby explaining the stalemate of efforts to negotiate a WMD-free zone. Chapters written by renowned experts from academia and policy-oriented think tanks, as well as by next-generation Middle East and arms control experts, introduce the subject to the reader, give background information about arms control initiatives, provide technical expertise, and endeavour to make proposals for arms control measures in support of the creation of a Middle East WMD-free zone.

Reconfiguring Global Climate Governance in North America Marcela Lopez-Vallejo, 2016-04-08. Global climate governance has presented problems that have led to failures, yet it has also opened the door to new transregional governance schemes, especially in North America. This book introduces an environmental dimension into the concept of governance. Almost fifteen years after the climate global governance concept emerged, results worldwide have not been as favorable as expected. This book details previous discussions about the concept of global climate governance and its limits. It highlights how the Kyoto Protocol has a limited design, taking into account a national approach to global, regional, and transnational problems, had no obligatory mechanisms for implementation, and explains the emergence of new polluters not committed under it, such as China and India. Furthermore, this book explores other levels of authority, such as regional institutions, the North American agreement on trade (NAFTA) and on environment (NAAEC), as well as the regional energy working group (NAEWG). The author puts forward a theoretical proposal for re-territorialization and coordination of policies for climate change into new forms of articulating interests in what she terms transnational green economic regions (TGERs) and tests this on two case studies: the Regional Greenhouse Gas Initiative (RGGI) and the Western Climate Initiative (WCI). This study presents the challenges and opportunities of a transregional approach in North America.

World Order Transition and the Atlantic Area Fulvio Attinà, 2021-01-20. This book examines the current phase of world order transition in the Atlantic area, focusing on Europe and Northern America, Asia, and Africa. In particular, it describes four processes of world order transition: namely, the decreasing American leadership, the rising power of China, the receding effectiveness of economy and security world policies, and the continued but inadequate operation of the world policy-making institutions. Part one of the book presents perspectives on world order transition developed by political science schools, i.e. the world hegemony and the power transition school, and by the experts of complexity theory, a newcomer in social sciences. These theories are best suited to explain the order transition and to supply consistent complementary data and insights on the juncture of the four processes pushing for the creation of the new world order Part two looks into the impact of order transition on the Atlantic area The authors focus on the existing tensions and the potentials for change that affect the long time relations between the USA the European countries and Canada At the same time the interference of China into the politics and economy of Europe is analyzed in particular through a case study of the relations between China and the Baltic states

The New Eastern Mediterranean Spyridon N. Litsas, Aristotle Tziampiris, 2018-06-12 This volume provides an introduction to the Eastern Mediterranean region and introduces the concept of the Eastern Mediterranean as a new regional subsystem Due to recent events in contemporary international politics the Eastern Mediterranean can be seen as a laboratory where the balance of power among Great Powers and regional states are being tested Written by leading academics in their respective fields this book addresses key developments in the area and argues that the Eastern Mediterranean should be viewed as a distinct region Particular emphasis is given to the initiatives undertaken by Israel Greece Cyprus and Turkey the role played by the United States and Russia and the issues of energy migration and Islamic terrorism Bringing together relevant information and theoretical debates this book will be of interest to graduate students and academics studying international relations and politics in the Eastern Mediterranean as well as policymakers and journalists who want to have a clearer understanding of developments in the region

The Changing Global Order Madeleine O. Hosli, Joren Selleslaghs, 2019-11-22 This volume offers a comprehensive evaluation of the concept of global order with a particular emphasis on the role of regional organisations within global governance institutions such as the United Nations Building from a solid theoretical base it draws upon the expertise of numerous leading international scholars offering a broad array of timely and relevant case studies These all take into consideration the historical setting before analysing the contemporary situation and offering suggestions for potential realignments and readjustments that may be witnessed in the future The volume adopts an interdisciplinary approach when addressing some of the most pressing issues of global governance which our global community must tackle This presents the readers an opportunity to understand related topics such as political economy international law institutions of global governance in conjunction with the academic field of International Relations IR It further helps students and interested readers understand the theoretical and practical foundations to the changing nature of global affairs

The EU, Promoting Regional Integration, and Conflict Resolution Thomas Diez, Nathalie Tocci, 2017-02-16 This book provides a comprehensive study into the promotion of regional integration as a central pillar of European Union EU relations with the rest of the world It is a strategy to deal with a core security challenge the transformation of conflicts and in particular regional conflicts Yet to what extent has the promotion of regional integration been successful in transforming conflicts What can we regard as the core mechanisms of such an impact This volume offers a comprehensive assessment of the nexus between promoting integration and conflict transformation The authors systematically compare the consequences of EU involvement in eight conflicts in four world regions within a common framework In doing so they focus on the promotion of integration as a preventative strategy to avoid conflicts turning violent and as a long term strategy to transform violent conflicts by placing them in a broader institutional context The book will be of use to students and scholars interested in European foreign policy comparative regionalism and conflict resolution

Shifting Power in Asia-Pacific? Enrico Fels,2016-11-03 This book investigates whether a power shift has taken place in the Asia Pacific region since the end of the Cold War By systematically examining the development of power dynamics in Asia Pacific it challenges the notion that a wealthier and militarily more powerful China is automatically turning the regional tides in its favour With a special emphasis on Sino US competition the book explores the alleged linkage between the regional distribution of relevant material and immaterial capabilities national power and the much cited regional power shift The book presents a novel concept for measuring power in international relations by outlining a composite index on aggregated power CIAP that includes 55 variables for 44 regional countries and covers a period of twenty years Moreover it develops a middle power theory that outlines the significance of middle powers in times of major power shifts By addressing political military and economic cooperation via a structured focused comparison and by applying a comparative historical analysis the book analyses in depth the bilateral relations of six regional middle powers to Washington and Beijing

Vocabularies of International Relations After the Crisis in Ukraine Andrey Makarychev,Alexandra Yatsyk,2016-10-26 This book analyses the conflict in Ukraine and Russia s annexation of Crimea covering conceptualisations from rationalist to reflectivist and from quantitative to qualitative Most contributors agree that many of the old concepts such as multi polarity spheres of influence sovereignty or even containment are still cognitively valid yet believe the eruption of the crisis means that they are now used in different contexts and thus infused with different meanings

Rethinking the New World Order Georg Sørensen,2016-08-29 The end of the Cold War gave rise to much talk of a new global order and debate about just how new or orderly it was and would be Attempts to analyse the nature of this order have been many and various This important new text assesses the main approaches and offers its own analysis arguing that while chaos and raw anarchy are not on the cards each of the major domains of power security economics institutions and values contains elements of potentially major instability Interstate war may be receding but there are no simple solutions to comprehensive violent conflict inside fragile states and the non democratic great powers continue to have major regional ambitions There is a global liberal market economy but it is increasingly unequal and its financial infrastructure remains fragile and crisis prone There is a comprehensive set of international institutions but they are rather weak and in need of reform Liberal values are nominally endorsed by most states but they are in internal conflict and make up no firm basis for a stable world order Finally world order is threatened from within because the social compacts political infrastructures and national economic capacities of many states will decline This will have negative consequences for the willingness to bring about effective global governance The result may be a destructive dynamic which might take us towards a Hobbesian world in ways which Hobbes himself had never imagined

Routledge Handbook of Peace, Security and Development Fen Osler Hampson, Alpaslan Özerdem, Jonathan Kent, 2020-06-04 This Handbook offers a comprehensive examination of the peace security and development nexus from a global perspective and investigates the interfaces of these issues in a context characterised by many new challenges By bringing together more than 40 leading experts and commentators from across the world the Handbook maps the various research agendas related to these three themes taking stock of existing work and debates while outlining areas for further engagement In doing so the chapters may serve as a primer for new researchers while also informing the wider scholarly community about the latest research trends and innovations The volume is split into three thematic parts Concepts and approaches New drivers of conflict insecurity and developmental challenges Actors institutions and processes For ease of use and organisational consistency each chapter provides readers with an overview of each research area a review of the state of the literature a summary of the major debates and promising directions for future research This Handbook will be of much interest to students of peace and conflict studies development studies security studies and International Relations

Subverting Borders Bettina Bruns, Judith Miggelbrink, 2011-10-08 Small scale trade and smuggling are part of everyday life at many borders These trading activities often compensate for economic shortage that many households are suffering from in consequence of e g political transformation processes Despite of the diversity of transborder small scale trade and smuggling and their wide dispersion not only in Europe their reception within social sciences is relatively low The contributions shed therefore light on research in geography and neighboured disciplines On the basis of empirical research findings from borders all over the world the authors thrive to analyse mechanisms and conditions of the informal activities and to detect parallels and differences of informal economic structures from different perspectives This book is valuable reading for researchers in geography sociology ethnography and in political science Israel's Mediterranean Gas Sujata Ashwarya, 2019-05-03 This book examines the internal and external implications of Israel's natural gas discoveries in the Eastern Mediterranean The nation's changed status from being an importer of coal and oil to that of an exporter of natural gas has consequences not only for the energy sector but also for the fragile geopolitics of the region The book Explores the challenges and issues of energy economics and governance Analyses Israel's gas diplomacy with its neighbours in the Middle East and North Africa and its potential positive impact on the amelioration of the Arab Israeli conflict Studies how Israel can avoid the deleterious impact of the Dutch disease once the government's share of the export revenues start flowing The author traces a consummate picture of history politics and conflicts that shape the economics of energy in Israel and its future trajectories A major intervention in Middle East studies this volume will be of great interest to scholars and researchers of energy studies development studies strategic studies politics diplomacy and international relations It will also be of interest to government agencies think tanks and risk management firms Institutional Change and the International Criminal Court Cenap Çakmak, 2021-09-12 This book explores the dynamics and trajectories of change in international politics through an English School analysis of primary institutions including international law sovereignty and diplomacy with particular reference to the creation of the International Criminal Court ICC The study argues that it serves as an important indicator and model for redefining international politics particularly through its impact upon three major institutions as prescribed by the English School international law sovereignty and diplomacy The author explores three major areas the ICC's contribution to the consolidation of the individual as a subject of the international law the significance of the Court and its jurisdiction in terms of the state sovereignty and the strong and determinative role of non state actors active on global level during the diplomatic process upheld for the making of the norms and rules during the creation of the ICC These three fields of change point out to the redefinition and reconstruction of international politics heralding a solidarist vision of international society The book will be of particular interest to researchers in the field of the IR as well as graduate students interested in IR theory international law and international organizations The New Cold War and the Remaking of Regions T.V.

Paul, Markus Kornprobst, 2025-07-01 A compelling examination of how secondary states are preserving their strategic autonomy and are resisting spheres of influence Russia's invasion of Ukraine and the deteriorating United States China relationship signify the onset of the New Cold War Unlike the original Cold War this competition is multipolar and multiplex with secondary powers small states and even nonstate actors pragmatically selecting which of their interests intersect with those of the great powers The New Cold War and the Remaking of Regions contends that multiplexity and multipolarity have important repercussions for the world's regional orders Contributors to the book address the New Cold War and regional ordering processes from realist liberal and constructivist perspectives They demonstrate how variable regional dynamics will lead either to peaceful change or conflict This volume is part of a new wave of scholarship that expands the focus of international relations beyond great powers and recognizes the increasing agency that other states have gained in the twenty first century world order South Asian Regionalism Chakma, Bhumitra, 2020-07-22 Leading South Asia expert Bhumitra Chakma explains the politics of regionalism in South Asia and traces the origins and evolution of the South Asian Association for Regional Cooperation SAARC from its inception to the present day He takes an International Relations perspective and engages three major IR theoretical approaches neorealism institutionalism and constructivism to explain the complex dynamics of South Asian regionalism Using comparative perspectives based on the experiences of similar regional organizations the author provides an in depth analysis of the challenges of cooperation in the region and explores how progress might be made in the future Migrant Workers and ASEAN Anisa Santoso, 2017-04-21 ASEAN The Association of Southeast Asian Nations has made slow progress in defining a regional policy for the protection of migrant workers This book examines the normative structures within the institutions at play at both state and regional level of ASEAN which influence the making of a migrant workers protection policy The author puts forward a novel alternative policy analysis tool

the Two Level State and Regional Analysis that enables satisfactory explanation for policy making cases whereby normative institutional structures are involved and social policies are considered The author argues that the formulation of a working coherent migrant workers protection policy has not been achieved because of the presence of normative institutional structures with ideas unsupportive to the protection of migrant workers which results in a slow institutionalisation process Although the migrant workers in question are their citizens and migrant sending countries are supposed to have more supportive normative structures for workers protection the author finds that when examined closely institutions in both migrant sending and receiving countries tend to have normative structures that are against workers protection These arguments drive the analytical questions of the book to inquire about the forms of the normative structures involved and their influence in the relevant institutions A unique contribution to the study of ASEAN and migration in Southeast Asia this book will be of interest to academics in the field of Social Policy Migration Studies and Asian Studies in particular Southeast Asian Studies
