Collected Stories of Fantasy and Science Fiction Howard Fast, 2018-09-25 A pair of imaginative science fiction story collections from the 1 New York Times bestselling author of Spartacus Freedom Road and the Immigrants saga Over his long and illustrious career New York Times bestselling author and prolific novelist Howard Fast proved himself a master of any literary genre from historical fiction in Spartacus to family generational drama in his bestselling Immigrants saga. Although his output in fantasy and science fiction is relatively modest, these two short story collections reminiscent of classic Twilight Zone episodes demonstrate that Fast's imagination knew no boundaries. The General Zapped an Angel, nearly forty years after the publication of his first story Wrath of Purple in the science fiction magazine Amazing Stories, Fast returned to the genre with a set of nine supremely entertaining tales. In this collection, a Vietnam general shoots down what appears to be an angel; a man sells his soul to the devil for a copy of the next day's Wall Street Journal; and a group of alien beings bestow a mouse with human thought and emotion. These stories amply display Fast's considerable gifts as a writer: his clear, concise, often elegant prose; his sense of humor; his gift of sympathetic imagination; and sheer talent as a storyteller. Tangent A: A Touch of Infinity, this follow-up to The General Zapped an Angel, offers thirteen brisk and engrossing science fiction stories. In The Hoop, a scientist builds a portal to an unknown destination which the mayor of New York City hijacks to use as a garbage dump until the location's surprising and hilarious revelation. And in The Egg, set three thousand years in the future, a research team discovers an egg, something they have never seen before, cryogenically frozen in a nuclear bunker. Fast, a master of economy, spins his stories quickly and most effectively. Associated Press      The Last Supper Howard Fast, 2011-12-13

SIXTEEN Sixteen stories that depict America and the world emerging from the wreckage of World War II. From a Glimpse of Coca-Cola's First Appearance in a Remote Part of the Arabian Desert to the Tale of a Wealthy Paranoid Man Building a Shelter After the First Hydrogen Bomb Tests, the stories in The Last Supper depict a world coming to grips with the new post-war reality. As always, Howard Fast has an ear for the way history echoes through the generations, and his tales of American ascendancy are complemented by crisp fictional portraits of the country's earliest days, including three stories drawn from the life of colonial statesman Samuel Adams. Compelling and insightful, The Last Supper is an absorbing collection of mid-century Americana and a window into the mind of one of the country's greatest modern writers. Strange Yesterday Howard Fast, 2011-12-27 Fast's epic novel about one man's family tree stretching through history from the Revolutionary War portrays the best and worst of the American experiment. Broken and sick, a young Revolutionary War soldier from New York is taken in by an innkeeper's family and nursed to health. The soldier John Preswick falls in love with the innkeeper's daughter even as his wife Inez waits back home. Through five generations, the two families he starts share an intertwined fate. The Preswicks take part in some of the country's most significant episodes from the Civil War to the California Gold Rush, with fortunes discovered, lost, and made on the backs of others. A tenacious chronicler of American history, Howard Fast was one of the most prolific historical novelists of the twentieth century. Strange Yesterday is perhaps his most sweeping, ambitious novel.
