

extended to no other consideration. You must, therefore, forgive the solicitation of one unworthy member to know what danger could have arisen
45 under the present Confederation, and what are the causes of this proposal to change our government.

Passage 2

Mr. Chairman, my worthy friend (Mr. Henry) has expressed great uneasiness in his mind, and informed us that a great many of our citizens are also 50 extremely uneasy, at the proposal of changing our government. . . .

. . . [A]n objection is made to the form: the expression, We, the people, is thought improper. Permit me to ask the gentleman who made this 55 objection, who but the people can delegate powers? Who but the people have a right to form government? The expression is a common one, and a favorite one with me. The representatives of the people, by their authority, is a mode wholly 60 inessential. If the objection be, that the Union ought to be not of the people, but of the state governments, then I think the choice of the former very happy and proper. What have the state governments to do with it? . . .

65 But the power of the Convention is doubted. What is the power? To propose, not to determine.

33

In Passage 1, Henry states that Virginia differs from other areas of the country in that

- A) there is no evidence of civil unrest.
- B) the federal convention is widely praised.
- C) opposition to a consolidated government is strong.
- D) tyranny and loss of liberty are greatly feared.

34

The figurative language in lines 33-35 ("But, notwithstanding . . . guide us") serves mainly to suggest

- A) impatience.
- B) uncertainty.
- C) optimism.
- D) indignation.
