Moving Poetry Shirley Geok-lin Lim, Page Richards, 2001-11-01 One book to be read two ways A delightful collection of children's poems Ideas on inspiring creativity in young people 160 children took part in poetry writing workshops led by a group of Hong Kong's foremost poets Their poems shed an intriguing light on life in Hong Kong seen by a new generation This anthology has a particular significance for parents and teachers It shows that using English freely and creatively is an important step towards full command of the language The poet editors convey the fun of this venture and explain the techniques used to encourage the children's natural creativity Their essays provide a source of ideas for teachers interested in exploring creative writing Another section of poems by the poet teachers and undergraduate assistants drawn from the creative writing classes at the University of Hong Kong provides added pleasure for the poetry lover This collection showcasing the talents of budding young Hong Kong poets projecting their powerful and diverse voices into the future is for people who enjoy poetry and for those who wish to nurture the natural creativity of children Beautiful poems an admirable project Kenneth Koch Professor of English and Comparative Literature at Columbia University author of Wishes Lies and Dreams From a uniquely vibrant place where ancient cultures coincide with one another and with our planet's future comes this collection of poems energetic surprising direct subtle in a word moving The volume brings together the fundamental art of poetry and the transforming spirit of youth Robert Pinsky Professor of English at Boston University Poet Laureate of the United States 1997 2000 Moving Poetry is an ambitious and heartening collection sometimes funny sometimes melancholy invariably expert It proves once again the value of encouraging young people to stretch their imaginations and proves how great is the benefit to us all Andrew Motion Professor of Creative Writing at the University of East Anglia Poet Laureate of Great Britain

Hong Kong English Kingsley Bolton, 2002-09-01 The dominant view of many linguists and educators has been that Hong Kong English is a variety of the language that is derived from and dependent on the metropolitan norm of British English It has been argued that English in Hong Kong was never nativized as in other Asian societies and that it has not deserved the recognition accorded to other varieties of Asian English The contributions to this book challenge that view in a number of ways In addressing sociolinguistic structural and literary issues they provide an up to date survey of current use of Hong Kong English and redress the question of its autonomy in terms of both distinctive linguistic features and the growing literary creativity of the variety An original and highly informed discussion on the futures for Hong Kong English and chapters providing additional resources for the study of the variety are also included

The Routledge Concise History of Southeast Asian Writing in English Rajeev S. Patke, Philip Holden, 2009-09-10 The Routledge Concise History of Southeast Asian Writing in English traces the development of literature in the region within its historical and cultural contexts establishing connections from the colonial activity of the early modern period through to contemporary writing across nations such as Thailand China Malaya Singapore and Hong Kong

Transnational, National, and Personal

Voices Elisabetta Marino, 2004 The growing heterogeneity of Asian American and Asian diasporic voices has also given rise to variegated theoretical approaches to these literatures This book attempts to encompass both the increasing awareness of diasporic and transnational issues and more traditional analyses of Asian American culture and literature Thus the articles in this collection range from investigations into the politics of literary and cinematic representation to digging into the past through literary archeology or analyzing how consequential bodies can be in recent literature by Asian American and Asian diasporic women writers The book closes with an interview with critic and writer Shirley Lim where she insightfully deals with these transnational national and personal issues Elisabetta Marino is Assistant Professor of English literature at the University of Rome Tor Vergata Her main fields of interest are Asian American and Asian British literature children s literature Italian American literature Bego a Simal is Assistant Professor of English literature at the Universidade da Coru a Spain She has published critical work on both Asian American literature and comparative cross ethnic studies A Study Guide for Cathy Song's "The Youngest Daughter" Gale, Cengage Learning, 2016 A Study Guide for Shirley Geok-Lin Lim's "Ah Mah" Gale, Cengage Learning, 2016 Language Arts in Asia Christina DeCoursey, 2012-01-17 This volume is the first of a series contributing to the academic study of Language Arts as an English language teaching paradigm Language Arts has been widely used in native English speaking countries including Australia and New Zealand Its recent adoption into the second language teaching curriculum in Hong Kong as well as similar initiatives within secondary and tertiary education in mainland China enhances its interest to scholars studying second language teaching and learning in Asian contexts This book offers many papers and discussions of interest to teachers language professionals scholars and administrators Its chapters explore current topics in Language Arts research including trends in the rapprochement of stylistics and linguistics teaching approaches and learning outcomes At the same time they offer diverse theoretical and methodological approaches of interest to the practitioner and policy maker as well as the researcher The value of this volume lies particularly in strengthening the theoretical and methodological foundations of Language Arts The use of literature and the arts in humanist education has a long history within Europe being traditionally appreciated for its ability to transform leaders instill finer sensibilities and question social ills In its postcolonial incarnations as the traditional subject areas were informed by critical and linguistic theories language arts subject areas were less often used as they were understood to offer opportunities to analyse their functions as apology for leaders coopting the young and pacifying dissent but less often used to teach second language skills Language Arts curricula arising since the 1980s have increasingly embraced authentic voices styles and genres Contemporary Language Arts curricula use literature to teach reading based and communication skills in conjunction with critical and creative thinking The movement of English language education beyond native English shores has placed Language Arts into a World Englishes frame and therefore its curricula have included the teaching ethics civics and intercultural sensitivity The explosion of media and digital communications of the 1990s led to the adoption of media literacy as a crucial Language Arts skill As digital innovations continue to impact the teaching of English Language Arts has adopted multiliteracies These developments are represented in the papers included in this volume      Asian American Writers Deborah L. Madsen,2005 Presents career biographies and criticism of Asian American writers from the late 19th century up to the current time Many works focus on the experience of Asians living in the United States      Encyclopedia of Post-Colonial Literatures in English Eugene Benson,2004-11-30 Documents the history and development of Post colonial literatures in English together with English and American literature and includes original research relating to the literatures of some 50 countries and territories In more than 1 600 entries written by more than 600 internationally recognized scholars it explores the effect of the colonial and post colonial experience on literatures in English worldwide      The Poetry of Edmund Blunden Michael Thorpe,1971      Onthebus ,1991      Who's who of Indian Writers K.
