On the Dynamics of Early Multilingualism Barbara Hofer, 2015-07-01 This book contributes to current issues in TLA and multilingualism research It discusses multilingual learning and development from a Dynamic Systems Theory perspective The author argues that trilingual education does not harm or confuse young learners but that the teaching of three languages from an early age carries positive implications for children s linguistic metalinguistic and crosslinguistic awareness

Multilingualism and the Harmonisation of European Law Barbara Pozzo, Valentina Jacometti, 2006-01-01 As European lawyers dealing with cross border issues quickly learn the terms contract contrat and contratto signify three very different legal concepts This illustration highlights the importance of studying the relationships between language and law particularly in the context of strong pressure from the European Community to harmonise the laws of the Member States a process which appears difficult if not impossible unless there is an understanding of the profound differences which exist between the various legal systems and the development of a common European legal language from the 21 official languages now a feature of the European Union This admirable collection of essays brings together the work of practitioners and scholars in three fields pertinent to this endeavour representatives of Community institutions who are involved in drafting translating and interpreting multilingual texts jurists and comparative lawyers from both civil law and common law systems and researchers in linguistics and language issues Among the many relevant matters they discuss are the following terminologies of rights and remedies the role of the European Court of Justice as interpreter multilingualism in parliamentary practice the role of the European Commissions legal revisers and translation at the European Court of Justice The essays were originally presented as papers at a conference held in Como in April 2005 organised by the Faculty of Law of the University of Insubria together with the Centro Interuniversitario di Ricerca in Diritto Comparato Interuniversity Centre for Research in Comparative Law set up by the Universities of Milan Bologna and Insubria This event took place in the context of a research project co financed by the University of Insubria and the Italian Ministry of Education University and Research The particular objective of the conference was to make a comparison between the day to day working requirements within the Community institutions each with its own particular needs and the longer term analysis which the academic world could bring to bear on the problems of the translatability of legal terms As the first in depth appraisal of this crucial matter this book cannot fail to find interested readers among all the branches of European law practitioners and scholars local and international It is sure to be a highly valuable resource for many years to come

Teaching and Learning Third Languages Francesca D'Angelo, 2023-03-21 This book contributes to emerging research on third language acquisition TLA and pinpoints the main factors characterising TLA as a different process and area of study from second language acquisition Moving beyond the dichotomous conception of monolingualism and bilingualism it proposes a holistic and interdisciplinary approach to studying acquisition of a third or additional language It presents readers with a practical guide to understanding how these languages are processed learned and taught and addresses the cognitive linguistic and affective factors which make multilingual learning and teaching a complex and unique phenomenon It also emphasises the important role of teachers as knowledge generators Through various examples of multilingual education practices it highlights how fundamental teachers are as bridges between education and research on multilingualism This book will appeal to postgraduate students teacher trainers and researchers in the fields of multilingual education and cognitive linguistics Educational Bilingualism Natalia A.
