Multiculturalism Examining The Politics Of Recognition:

Multiculturalism Charles Taylor, 2017 Multiculturalism Kwame Anthony Appiah, 1994-01-01 Multiculturalism Charles Taylor, 1994-09-11 A new edition of the highly acclaimed book Multiculturalism and The Politics of Recognition this paperback brings together an even wider range of leading philosophers and social scientists to probe the political controversy surrounding multiculturalism Charles Taylor's initial inquiry which considers whether the institutions of liberal democratic government make room or should make room for recognizing the worth of distinctive cultural traditions remains the centerpiece of this discussion It is now joined by Jürgen Habermas's extensive essay on the issues of recognition and the democratic constitutional state and by Kwame Anthony Appiah's commentary on the tensions between personal and collective identities such as those shaped by religion gender ethnicity race and sexuality and on the dangerous tendency of multicultural politics to gloss over such tensions These contributions are joined by those of other well known thinkers who further relate the demand for recognition to issues of multicultural education feminism and cultural separatism Praise for the previous edition Multiculturalism , Charles Taylor Ruth Abbey, 2004-01-26 Charles Taylor is a distinctive figure in contemporary philosophy In a time of increasing specialization Taylor contributes to areas of philosophical conversation across a wide spectrum of ideas including moral theory theories of subjectivity political theory epistemology hermeneutics philosophy of mind philosophy of language and aesthetics His most recent writings have seen him branching into the study of religion Written by a team of international authorities this collection will be read primarily by students and professionals in philosophy political science religious studies but will appeal to a broad swathe of professionals across the humanities and social sciences Multicultural Politics of Recognition and Postcolonial Citizenship Rachel Busbridge, 2017-07-20 This book examines claims for recognition of cultural difference from immigrant and Indigenous minorities highlighting the ways in which they intersect with ideas of national community Busbridge argues that there is an important albeit under explored relationship between nation and multicultural politics of recognition Drawing on the Australian context the book explores how nation features as a productive if somewhat ambivalent discursive resource in contemporary Muslim and Aboriginal struggles to be recognised In demanding recognition minorities enter into the business of making the nation by positing alternative conceptions of national identity culture and belonging that are more attentive to their differences and claims This dynamic is engaged as an expression of postcolonial citizenship Postcolonial citizenship is imagined in terms of the ways in which minority groups actualise multicultural realities through rewriting ideas of national community It underlines the critical importance of revising the power relations that deem some groups more national and others less so and which in Western multicultural societies are typically tied to notions of the West and its others This book is an important conceptual theoretical and political intervention that brings postcolonialism and multiculturalism into dialogue on the increasingly potent issues of nation and national identity It will be of great interest to scholars and students of sociology politics postcolonial studies culture identity and nation Charles Taylor - 'The Politics of Recognition' and Intercultural Tensions Oliver Christl, 2009 Seminar paper from the year 2007 in the subject English Literature Works grade 1.0 University of Würzburg language English abstract Tensions between minority groups and the all embracing liberal tradition of Western society have been on the agenda of the debate over multiculturalism for decades occupying the minds of both political thinkers and authors The contribution the Canadian philosopher Charles Taylor has made to explain the increasing demand of cultural and other groups for recognition in our liberal societies has immensely influenced today's multicultural debate With his general approach to the concept of recognition Taylor has found widespread resonance This paper investigates the issue of intercultural tensions as it is portrayed in Charles Taylor's essay The Politics of Recognition and its representation in Israel Zangwill's The Melting Pot and Amiri Baraka's Dutchman In order to achieve an overall understanding of Taylor's approach to the issue the investigation first focuses on his essay's fundamental statements and then on its main arguments concerning liberalism and cultural difference The discussion includes comments and critique on Taylor's essay mainly taken from the volume Multiculturalism Examining the Politics of Recognition edited by Amy Gutmann which also contains Taylor's essay On the basis of Taylor's ideas the representation of intercultural tensions in The Melting Pot and Dutchman is described in the following with a focus on cultural identity the arts and cultural assimilation In his highly influential essay The Politics of Recognition Charles Taylor approaches the issue of multiculturalism from a philosophical perspective In order to explain the increasing demand for public recognition put forward by different groups and individuals in contemporary multicultural societies Taylor's investigation focuses on the relationship between the identity of an individual or a group and its recognition within its social The Politics of Misrecognition Majid Yar, 2016-02-24 The past several decades have seen the emergence of a vigorous ongoing debate about the politics of recognition The initial impetus was provided by the reflections of Charles Taylor and others about the rights to cultural recognition of historically marginalized groups in Western societies Since then the parameters of the debate have considerably broadened However while debates about the politics of recognition have yielded significant theoretical insights into recognition its logical and necessary counterpart misrecognition has been relatively neglected The Politics of Misrecognition is the most meticulous reflection to date on the importance of misrecognition for the understandings of our political and personal experience A team of leading experts from a range of disciplines including philosophy political theory sociology psychoanalysis history moral economy and criminology present different theoretical frameworks in which the politics of misrecognition may be understood They apply these frameworks to a wide variety of contexts including those of class identity disability slavery criminal victimization and domestic abuse In this way the book provides an essential resource for anyone interested in the dynamics of misrecognition and their implications for the development of political and social theory Citizenship, Identity and the Politics of Multiculturalism N. Meer, 2015-12-04 This book provides a fresh perspective on the emergence of public

Muslim identities traversing issues of Muslim state engagement across government initiatives and church state relations across equalities agendas and the education system the courts and the media Multicultural Politics Tariq Modood,2005 Examines the modern problem of religious identity and cultural racism Multiculturalism in the British Commonwealth Richard T. Ashcroft,Mark Bevir,2019-07-12 A free open access ebook is available upon publication Learn more at www.luminosoa.org Multiculturalism as a distinct form of liberal democratic governance gained widespread acceptance after World War II but in recent years this consensus has been fractured Multiculturalism in the British Commonwealth examines cultural diversity across the postwar Commonwealth situating modern multiculturalism in its national international and historical contexts Bringing together practitioners from across the humanities and social sciences to explore the legal political and philosophical issues involved these essays address common questions What is postwar multiculturalism Why did it come about How have social actors responded to it In addition to chapters on Australia Britain Canada and New Zealand this volume also covers India Malaysia Nigeria Singapore and Trinidad tracing the historical roots of contemporary dilemmas back to the intertwined legacies of imperialism and liberalism In so doing it demonstrates that multiculturalism has implications that stretch far beyond its current formulations in public and academic discourse The Politics of Multiculturalism in the New Europe Tariq Modood,Pnina Werbner,1997-08 On multiculturalism Multiculturalism and American Democracy Symposium on Science, Reason, and Modern Democracy,1998 The fourteen essays in this volume address the pros and cons of multiculturalism and explore its relationship with liberal democracy Moralized Selves : Liberty and Self-government in the Multicultural State Steven Andrew Kelts,2002 Reflections on Multiculturalism Robert Eddy,1996 This book convincingly shows that the United States should adopt multiculturalism so that it doesn't become monoculturally provincial in a global society and so that it can survive in the twentieth century as a democratizing force rather than a future Bosnia The book is divided into two sections 1 Theories and Issues in Multiculturalism and 2 Multicultural Dialogicalism Personal Examples Essays are as follows 1 Getting it Multiculturalism and the Politics of Understanding Dennis Fischman 2 Metaphor Language Games Cultures Eric Hyman 3 Shattered Images From Consensus to Contention in Classic American Film Sam B Girgus 4 Literacy Culture and the Colonial Legacy Victor Villanueva Jr 5 The Mulatto in American Literature W Maurice Shipley 6 Representing and Negotiating Differences in the Contact Zone Min Zhan Lu 7 The Accidental Culture Disability and the Enduring Need for Closure James A Helten 8 No Sentimental Education An Essay on Transatlantic Cultural Identity Thomas Austenfeld 9 Chinese in America or Chinese Americans Building Multicultural Landscapes and Literacies An Lan Jang and 10 The Other before Me A Bicultural Dialogue Solange de Azambuja Lira and Arnold Gordonstein BT Beyond the Canon Maria Grever,Siep Stuurman,2007-10-11 This book reflects on the culture wars over the historical canon in today's globalizing world It discusses the attempts to review and transcend the received canon in historical research and teaching in Europe Canada the United States and South Africa In the aftermath of the culture wars the national and Western canons still largely dominate teaching and public memory The book addresses the challenge of moving beyond these traditional narratives without sacrificing history as a coherent attractive and teachable subject Rethinking Multicultural Education Carol Korn-Bursztyn,Alberto Bursztyn,2002-03-30 Korn and Bursztyn and their contributors examine the cultural transitions that children make as they move between home and school Case studies present instances of how diversity engages us in renegotiating the personal and social In illuminating the complicated nature of cultural transitions they highlight how multiculturalism can play a transformative role in the lives of children and schools
