The Future of Inclusive Education Valentina Migliarini, Brent C. Elder, 2024-01-10

This book addresses the tensions of existing theories and practices of inclusive education from an international perspective Adopting Disability Critical Race Theory in Education DisCrit and Critical Disability Studies CDS the authors expose how race neutral knowledge characterizes inclusive education and exhorts readers to consider how intersectional perspectives provide more complex and nuanced understandings about ways in which racism and ableism simultaneously circulate as intersecting oppressions in schools and societies and across geographical borders The authors begin by engaging in a critical analysis of the genesis of inclusive education before exploring how existing policies and practices of inclusive education in the global North evade the collusive nature of oppressions faced by minoritized students with disabilities and are uncritically transferred into the global South Ultimately the book encourages readers to reconceptualize inclusive education and move towards developing and sustaining transformative notions of global justice

Negotiating Identities, Language and Migration in Global London Cangbai Wang, Terry Lamb, 2024-01-16 This book explores the transnational practices of migrant groups in global London illustrating the complex relations between migrants and the city in the context of globalisation The chapters offer a starting point to examine migrants and the city from a comparative perspective by bringing together case studies of diverse migrant communities They use languaging as the central concept in the development of an interdisciplinary framework that creates an opportunity to talk across disciplines to engage with key issues crisscrossing migration cities and language The book promotes language based or language sensitive research drawing on the plurilingual repertoires and the language and translanguaging practices of migrant communities as the tool for data collection and ethnographic fieldwork This approach generates fresh insights into the complex issues of diasporic identities belonging and place making which have broad implications for migration studies in post Brexit Britain and beyond Inclusive Education in Bilingual and Plurilingual Programs Mañoso-Pacheco, Lidia, Estrada Chichón, José Luis, Sánchez-Cabrero, Roberto, 2024-02-07 Implementing bilingual and plurilingual education programs has ushered in a transformative era for educators worldwide These programs have redefined teaching practices and thrust diversity into the spotlight as a central concern During this paradigm shift the need to cater to diverse students has become paramount particularly in monolingual European contexts where bilingual and plurilingual instruction is often perceived as a formidable challenge especially for learners with special needs Inclusive Education in Bilingual and Plurilingual Programs assembles a compendium of international theoretical and practical contributions shedding light on the intricate interplay between diversity and bilingual or plurilingual education This book delves into the multifaceted realm of attention to diversity in education where the focus is on tailoring teaching methods to the specific needs of students encompassing differences in abilities learning paces and styles which empowers students to acquire essential competencies and attain educational objectives at each stage of their academic journey Secondly it traverses the landscape of bilingual and plurilingual education which has emerged in response to the societal employment and economic demands for language proficiency beyond one's mother tongue This book is essential reading for many educational stakeholders engaged in bilingual or plurilingual education Teachers at every educational level along with teacher trainers at tertiary institutions will find valuable insights for tailoring their pedagogical approaches to the unique needs of their students Speech and Language Therapy Myra Kersner, Jannet A. Wright, 2013-03-01 Now in its second edition Speech and Language Therapy the decision making process when working with children reveals how recent research and changes in health and education services have affected the decision making process in the assessment and management of children with speech and language problems With individual chapters written by experts in their field this book illustrates how the decisions made by practitioners may vary within different work settings Shows how these decisions may need to be adapted when working with specific client groups Explores how such decisions are part of effective evidence based practice Offers an overview of the skills required by the developing professional Provides insight into working as a newly qualified therapist in the current job market Rigorously underpinned with current research and revised legislation this is an important textbook for speech and language therapy students potential students and specialist teachers in training Speech and Language Therapy the decision making process when working with children will also be relevant to newly qualified therapists therapists returning to the profession specialist teachers and Special Educational Needs Coordinators Domestic Workers Talk Kellie Gonçalves, Anne Ambler Schluter, 2024-01-16 Set in a multilingual cleaning company that serves Anglophone customers in the upper middle class suburbs of New York City this book presents an ethnographic study into power language policy and communication from the perspectives of the Brazilian American employer as well as the company's Hispanophone and Lusophone employees Power asymmetries in internal communication demonstrate the employer's legitimated domination over her employees and her L1 Portuguese as a form of linguistic capital Employees resourcefulness and multicompetence rather than quantifiable levels of English language proficiency determine the extent to which they rely on language brokering to facilitate communication with their customers directly impacting their agency The book contributes to current debates on extra linguistic modes of communication in multilingual settings and thematic analyses of care work migration communication and the role of English

International Students in Higher Education Vander Tavares, 2021-08-10 Applying a critical and holistic framework International Students in Higher Education Language Identity and Experience from a Holistic Perspective explores the lived experiences of four multilingual international students at a Canadian University Vander Tavares investigates how the students experience life in the host community construct their multiple identities and develop their proficiency in the English language Additionally Tavares examines the ways in which the institutional context impacts the students experiences by foregrounding the voices of domestic students faculty and support staff and their experiences and perspectives on international students multiculturalism and multilingualism Drawing from theories of cultural and social psychology post structuralism multilingualism and a sociocognitive approach to second language acquisition this project presents rich ethnographic portraits of the students experiences This contextualised and humanised portrayal of the students individual journeys challenges the prevailing discourse of deficit that has traditionally been used to characterise the multilingual international student experience Overall this book demonstrates that an ethical understanding of multilingual international students experiences requires critical attention to the sociocultural and sociolinguistic contexts of their academic communities and a holistic approach that considers the multiple domains of lived experience that the students navigate
