It is very fast and pretty solid at writing and coding tasks.                       | It is fast and cheap and capable, but other models are now better. Also, it is not connected to the internet, so don't use it like a search engine.                                                         |

The most powerful LLM for most purposes. Does a lot.                                                      | Better at everything (writing, coding, summarizing) than GPT-3.5 Still not connected to the internet.                                                                                                       |

Plugins and web browsing still have rough edges. Code Interpreter lets the AI run Python code & work with files. | Code Interpreter is great for working with data of all sorts, and is the most generally impressive AI implementation so far. Plugins are generally not that useful, yet. The web browsing is being updated. |
| Bing(Uses GPT-4 in creative & precise modes) |           | Yes        | Yes         | Yes                 | Friendly but also somewhat insane | Connected to the internet. It is GPT-4 with a grab-bag of powerful features. The weirdest model. Creative mode lets you use GPT-4 and is free.     | Does a remarkably wide range of stuff, from working as a browser companion to creating art. Is connected to the internet. Has a strong, weird personality.                                                  |
| Bard                                             | Yes       | Yes        |             | Yes                 | None                              | Bard is a name for a variety of models used by Google. Current offerings are weak, but improving over time                                         | This should be your last choice of AIs for now, but recent updates show promise. High levels of hallucination.                                                                                              |

Has 100k context window - enough "memory" to hold a book.           | Terrific on working with large documents, due to its extended context window and ability to upload content. It is very new so it is unclear how it stacks up.                                               |
